The content of this performance depends on the conditions you selected in the search engine.

The challenge is to reverse these conditions.

Example 1: If you'd like to do a performance alone, with no preparation, in a crowded area for less than one hour, the performance takes place through gathering people who prepare to do a performance for longer than one hour in a silent environment.

Example 2: If you'd like to do a performance with two or more people, with some preparation in a silent environment for longer than one hour, the performance takes place by splitting the group into individual performers who do a performance without any preparation in a crowded area for less than one hour.
