#070:Jolanda Jansen: The Element Wind (2015)

- You will need an A4-sheet of paper

-You can do this performance solo, but also with other performers, that way it would work as a kind of contest.

For this performance you need a track for your paper.

This track needs to have a begin and an end.

Don't make it too easy, find some interesting obstacles for your paper to pass along the track.

Now put the sheet on the ground and start blowing.

If you blow, it will move easily.

Don't use your hands or feet any time!

Find a way to pass your sheet along all the obstacles till the end of the track.

This performance could be especially interesting if there is a windy day.

Find how you could work with and against the element wind.
