#125: Martine Viale: Body in confined spaces (2020)

Following a series of action scores that I recently developed in the public space (City Actions 2019-2020), I wanted to use this imposed isolation time to think about scores that could be performed in intimate and personal spaces. A way to adapt to the context, a way of staying connected, a way of turning the gaze more deeply inward. The scores may be performed alone or in interaction with the people in your home who you are sharing this lockdown with.

M.V. March 30, 2020

Body in confined spaces Nr.3 (2020)

Stand in front of a wall.

Determine the center of the wall.

Close your right eye while pointing at the center of the wall with one finger.

Leave your finger where it is, close your left eye and repeat the gesture.

Adjust your finger as needed to carefully continue pointing at the center.

Keep pointing, while alternating between closing the right and left eyes, as long as it makes sense for you.
